Piano virtuoso to play Pavilion

The final concert of the 2016 season for the Haliburton Concert Series is almost here, and it's one you won't want to miss.

Young piano virtuoso Sheng Cai will be the featured musician. He debuted with the Toronto Symphony Orchestra when he was only 15, went on to study at Juilliard, and has performed around the world. The Toronto Star said that he has "real talent with a clear, singing tone to a subtle sense of rubato." He's been heralded as having "great confidence ... lucidity, breath, colour, and power."

For his concert here in Haliburton, Mr. Cai will play works by Beethoven, Chopin, Albeniz, Shostakovich, and Prokofiev. It promises to be a wonderful evening.

The concert takes place at the Northern Lights Performing Arts Pavilion on Sunday, Oct. 30 at 7:30 p.m. There will be refreshments and a chance to meet Sheng Cai after the concert.

Tickets are available from June Smith at 705-457-3272 or june.smith705@gmail.com. Adults are $30, students $10.

Further information about this concert and our 2017 season are available at www.haliburtoncs.blogspot.ca.

Jacot thrills
Musician Michele Jacot plays the clarinet accompanied by pianist Sonya Sim during a recital on Saturday, Sept. 24 at the Northern Lights Performing Arts Pavilion in Haliburton, as part of the Haliburton Concert Series. The next concert features pianist Sheng Cai, who stuided at Juillard and made his debut with the Toronto Symphony at 15, on Sunday, Oct. 30. HALIBURTON HIGHLANDS HEALTH SERVICES
Leaders in Innovative Rural Health Care

EMERGENCY MEDICINE PHYSICIAN
(Haliburton Emergency Department)

Nestled in the heart of cottage country, just 2½ hours north east of Toronto, is the Haliburton Highlands with its breathtaking scenery of lakes, trees, hills and valleys. Whether you enjoy the thrill of outdoor adventure, the charm of exploring art studies and galleries, or the serenity of sitting by the lake, the Highlands is for you!

The Haliburton Highlands Health Services (HHHS) has a great opportunity for an Emergency Medicine Physician to provide patient care to a wonderful and appreciative community at the Haliburton site. The Haliburton Emergency Department is a busy rural community hospital which sees an average 15,000 visits per year, and has excellent in-house and referral centre support. The successful applicant must be eligible for independent practice licensure with the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario with CCFP (EM) certification or CCFP with experience is preferred. In addition, the candidate must have ACLS, PALS, and ATLS certification. Emphasis will be placed on candidates with strong communication skills and experience working in rural environments.

To submit your curriculum vitae or to be connected to the Chief of Staff for additional information about the opportunity, please contact hr@hhhs.ca.

Haliburton Highlands Health Services thanks all applicants, however, only those selected for an interview will be contacted. If you are contacted by HHHS regarding a job opportunity or testing, please advise if you require accommodation. Information received relating to accommodation needs of applicants will be addressed confidentially.

Turkeys give thanks

Living Large

Humour by Steve Galea

Now that human Thanksgiving has passed, I think it might be nice if we focused on turkey Thanksgiving, which falls on the day after the human one.

Here are 10 reasons turkeys feel thankful:

1. There's finally room in the pen.
2. The realization that having a petite stature is kind of nice.
3. Nobody eats turkey in the off-season.
4. Those snooty chickens are about to get what's coming to them.
5. Finally, all this dieting can end.
6. That huge gobbler won't bother anyone ever again.
7. Maybe those nightmares about the deep fryer are over.
8. Turkey wings never did catch on.
9. Colonel Saunders preferred chickens.
10. Cleaning the coop after human Thanksgiving is someone else's job.

Looking for women who care

By Chad Ingram

Joan Featherstone is looking for 100 Women Who Care.

The Minden resident is starting a local manifestation of an informal fundraising organization that has clubs all over the continent, including nearby in the City of Kawartha Lakes and Brock.

"It's not a registered charity itself," Featherstone explains. "When we collect the money, we give it to the registered charity."

The concept is simple. Three one-hour meetings a year, to which participating women each bring $100. Featherstone points out this equates to about 80 cents per day.

"The idea is that it's for busy women," Featherstone says, emphasizing the minimal time commitment.

Women are asked to nominate local charities. Three finalists will then be asked to speak for five minutes of their charity of choice.

"Then the group will vote, out of those three charities, which one we give the money to that meeting," Featherstone says.

Tax receipts are given by the nominated charity.

"And we can have partners," Featherstone says, explaining that women who can't afford $100 three times a year are welcome to team up with others and participate that way.

"The idea is to get 100 women," she says, although realizes that may be a lofty goal in a community as small as Haliburton County. "I have 17 so far. We already have $1,400 and we haven't even met yet. We have quite a few people involved now from Minden, but we want everyone involved. It's not just a Minden thing."

The first meeting of 100 Women Who Care Haliburton County will take place at the Dominion Hotel on Wednesday, Nov. 23. Registration is at 6:30 p.m., with the meeting from 7 to 8 p.m.

For more information, contact Featherstone at 705-286-4376 or curriejlf@gmail.com.

Woodlot Course coming to L'Amable

Do you want to know more about your woodlot and sustainable forestry? Come and learn from the experts at the Managing Your Woodlot course. The Local Wood Initiative, with support from the Ontario Trillium Foundation, is hosting a two-day course in the classroom and out in the woods, led by professional foresters. The outdoor session allows you to try out the techniques and decision-making processes covered in class.

The course dates are Saturday, Oct. 22 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and Saturday, Oct. 29 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., at the Dungannon Recreation Centre at 26596 Hwy 62 in L'Amable (south of Bancroft). Registration is required.

Woodlot owners can enhance and protect the health of their woods. Trees play a vital role in sequestering carbon; they provide wood for lumber and fuel, purify the air and provide habitat for a huge variety of insects, birds and animals. Woodlots and forestry provide jobs and are an important part of Ontario's economy.

"The important environmental functions of woodlots can be maintained, and in many cases, improved with active management that may result in financial return," says course leader David Smallwood.

The first morning session of the course covers the history of forestry in eastern Ontario. The second morning session covers the types of forest stands (from upland hardwoods to treed woods, to coniferous plantations), and how to create a forest management plan. The two afternoon sessions provide outdoor lessons in applying sustainable techniques in the woodlot.

With a forest management plan, a landowner can set goals that may include collecting fuel wood, promoting wildlife, managing for recreation or harvesting lumber.

If you want to harvest wood for lumber or firewood, there are many factors to consider, such as getting bids from several reputable contractors and having a contract in place. The Bancroft and Area Forest Industry Association (BAFIA) is a good resource, with their code of sustainable forestry practice.

The Managing Your Woodlot course will be taught by David Smallwood, assisted by Fred Werner and Peter Hynard; all are professional foresters.

To register, please contact Matt Caruana 613-391-9034 info@hastingsstewardship.ca or Louise Livingstone 613-395-4388, info@harvesthastings.ca. The cost is $50 per person or $75 per couple. Also visit www.hastingsstewardship.ca and www.harvesthastings.ca.

PETITION

TO THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF ONTARIO:

WHEREAS Electricity rates have risen by more than 300% since the Liberal Government took office; and

WHEREAS over half of Ontarians' power bills are regulatory and delivery charges and the Global Adjustment; and

WHEREAS many rural customers will see delivery charges soaring by as much as 25% in 2017, which will increase their total hydro bills by up to 11.5%; and

WHEREAS more and more Ontarians are being forced into energy poverty, having to cut down on essential expenses such as food and medicines in order to pay their increasingly unaffordable electricity bills; and

WE, THE UNDERSIGNED, PETITION THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF ONTARIO AS FOLLOWS:

To take immediate steps to reduce the total cost of electricity paid for by Ontarians, including costs associated with power consumed, the Global Adjustment, delivery charges, administrative charges, tax and any other charges added to Ontarians' energy bills.

Art Heaven is Back!

Rails End Gallery needs your old art! Once again, they are looking for donations of pre-owned arts and crafts for their Art Heaven Exhibition and Fundraiser. Pack up the pottery, jewelry, paintings and sculptures that you once loved and bring them to the public art gallery, located in the old train station on York Street in Haliburton Village. Rather than gathering dust in the attic, your old art will be reincarnated.

The art angels at Rails End will curate donated art items and offer them for sale to new owners at excellent prices. The grand opening of the Art Heaven Exhibition and Sale, will be held at Rails End Gallery from 3 to 8 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 25. It's also Santa Claus Parade day, so there will be much excitement in town.

Last year, the profits from Art Heaven soared to $2,500, which went a long way toward funding programs such as Kids' Art Attack and building improvements. Donors were thrilled to recycle their art treasures and shoppers were thrilled to find exquisite original art and unique Christmas gifts.

Donations are now being accepted at Rails End Gallery during regular gallery hours. (Wednesday to Saturday 11 a.m.to 5 p.m.; Sundays noon to 3 p.m.)

Thank You!

Live Theatre
We have brought the curtain down on our 2016 season!
Over the summer we have had the pleasure of receiving hundreds of comments from patrons in the lobby and on the street telling me how much they enjoyed the season as a whole and specific shows in particular. It is heartening to hear these remarks because it tells me that our goals, excellence and producing an entertaining season, are being achieved.
On behalf of everyone involved with the Highlands Summer Festival, thank you for your loyalty this year and in past seasons. Thank you for your donations and support for our fund-raising projects. And thank you to our business supporters who see the Highlands Summer Festival as an important part of summer in the Highlands.
Planning is already underway for 2017.
We should have details on the season on our website: (www.highlandssummerfestival.on.ca) in early November.
See you at the theatre next summer!

Reach new heights in business

The Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce, in partnership with Haliburton County Development Corporation and Pinestone Resort is hosting a one-of-a-kind event, Reaching New Heights in Business.

Guest speaker, Alan Mallory is an international speaker, author and professional development trainer. His presentation is a stunning visual and emotional journey that brings the audience along on Mallory's family's two-month expedition to the summit of Mount Everest. It is about a unified team working together to achieve a common goal. Above all, Mallory highlights the importance of innovative thinking, strong team dynamics and living your dream.

The presentation will explore the leadership skills and mindsets that help individuals and organizations achieve breakthrough performance. It is about embracing and working through challenges in order to ultimately achieve success in any endeavour. Reaching New Heights is designed to capture the attention of the audience providing beneficial insights in day-to-day living and personal development.

"I am thrilled we've been able to bring this kind of presentation to the businesses of Haliburton County," says Autumn Smith, manager of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce. "Each and every one of our businesses work very hard to achieve their goals and we want to make sure they have the skills and inspiration they need to succeed."

This event, in place of this month's Chamber Breakfast, will happen on Tuesday, Oct. 19, featuring Mallory and his incredible story, a Q&A, and the tools you need to conquer your own Everest.

The chamber is also providing an exclusive offer during the event. Any business who signs up to be a chamber member on Oct. 19 will not have to pay the member set up fee.

Event details:

When: Tuesday, Oct. 19, from 8 to 9:30 a.m.

Did you know?

Come autumn, many foods seem to take on a unique flavour exclusive to the season. That's thanks to the ubiquitous "pumpkin spice," which each fall is a specially featured ingredient in everything from cream cheese to marshmallows. Naturally, pumpkin spice is also a key ingredient when preparing pumpkin pie. But just what does pumpkin spice contain? Pumpkin spice is a combination of several different ground spices. It typically includes cinnamon, cloves, ginger and nutmeg. It also may include allspice. Pumpkin spice is the name given to the blend in the United States. In the United Kingdom, pumpkin spice is known as "mixed spice," which is a similar but not exact blend as that used to create pumpkin spice. Both feature cinnamon as the dominant flavour.

Creative uses for fallen leaves

Millions of leaves fall from tree boughs each fall. Homeowners and landscaping professionals will spend countless hours removing leaves from lawns and driveways so they can be collected and ultimately added to compost piles or removed by local governments.

But leaves do not necessarily have to meet with the same fate each year. In fact, there are many creative ways to use leaves gathered from lawns and gardens.

- Scarecrow: Gather a decent pile of leaves and the makings of a scarecrow, which include hay, old clothing, string, and canvas. Use the leaves to help stuff the body of the scarecrow and make him a bit more plump.
- Vases: Fill an empty flower vase with different leaves that you have gathered. This makes for an engaging centrepiece when entertaining.
- Pressings: Press leaves between two pieces of paper to make a leaf silhouette. Some of the pigment will transfer to the paper, and these natural pieces of artwork can be displayed or shared.
- Laminate: Laminate leaves so they can be used as place cards when hosting guests for holiday feasts.

Put these ideas to the test to make fallen leaves part of your unique home decor.

The origins of Oktoberfest

The origins of Oktoberfest can be traced to a wedding that took place in Munich, Germany on Oct. 12, 1810. To celebrate the marriage of Bavarian Crown Prince Ludwig to Princess Therese of Saxe-Hildburghausen, the citizens of Munich were invited to the festivities, which were held on the fields in front of the city gates. The public fields were renamed "Theresienwiese" in honour of the new bride, and that name has withstood the test of time, even though locals now refer to the fields as "Wies'n." In honour of the prince and his newly minted princess, horse races were held on Oct. 17, and historians are still uncertain as to who initially proposed the idea to include horse races in the festivities. One of the people suspected of proposing the races, Franz Baumgartner, eventually saw his horse end up in the winner's circle, where the steed was cheered by the roughly 40,000 spectators on hand to witness the events. The festivities, including the horse race, were repeated a year later, giving birth to the annual tradition of Oktoberfest. While 40,000 spectators might have seemed like a lot of people in 1810, attendance at modern-day Oktoberfest festivities dwarfs that number, as Oktoberfestbeerfestivals.com notes that more than six million people attended the festivities in 2013. In 2015, festival workers served 7.3 million litres of beer.

This new Business & Community Achievement Award was created to recognize and celebrate exceptional customer service that our entire community benefits from.

Vicki Fraser
Haliburton County Public Library

According to Vicki Fraser's nomination, nobody puts the customer first better than she does. Vicki's nominators say she does everything right and then goes beyond that. "She is invariably cheerful, eager to help in any way she can, and leaves you walking out the door happier than when you came in." Vicki's employer says she makes everyone feel special and "goes above and beyond with her dedication to making sure people have a good library experience." Study will determine location of 30 beds

Hospitals and Hyland Crest are involved

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

There will be a new study to determine the future of the two local hospitals, Hyland Crest seniors' home and the location of Haliburton County's 30 new long-term care beds.

At a meeting in Dorset last Tuesday, the Haliburton County Development and Planning Committee agreed that the issues surrounding the county's two hospitals, the seniors' home and long-term care should all be tied together under one study.

This study, which should be under way by the end of the summer, will be a joint project of county council, St. Joseph's Hospital and the development and planning committee.

The mandate of the committee, which has met six times since its inaugural meeting May 12, is to implement the recommendations of the Directional Plan for the county's long-term health, housing and social service needs which was completed a year ago.

The 13-member committee is chaired by Times publisher Jack Brezina and includes municipal politicians, health care and social service workers, residents and provincial officials.

Its first two priorities are to determine the best locations for the 30 new beds which the province approved for Haliburton County last year and to oversee a study of Hyland Crest and Minden Hospital.

Last Tuesday was the first time a committee meeting was open to the public. The first six meetings were used to give members an overview of the issues involved.

In his opening statement, Brezina said he is aware that some members are frustrated with the seemingly slow progress so far, but he said the pace of the committee's work will quicken as it begins to make decisions.

The committee broke into two groups to discuss the feasibility study and how to allocate money and beds throughout the county.

The province has committed $2.3 million in capital funding, but the community must contribute one-third of any money spent.

The county has already set aside $266,000, which was supposed to have been used for the 18-bed chronic care addition to the Haliburton Hospital. That money can be used to cover the community's cost of establishing the long-term beds.

The public money raised for the 18-bed addition has now grown to more than $600,000, which is being held in trust by the St. Joseph's Hospital Foundation.

It is unclear whether that money can be used by the committee or not. The committee is planning to meet with the executive director of the foundation this week to find out the status of the money raised by the community.

The discussion on where to locate the beds generated some debate among committee members.

Doug Campbell put forward a proposal that the committee agree, in principal, that the

Minden asked to keep ambulance operations

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

The Ministry of Health has asked Minden council to retain control of the Haliburton County Ambulance Service for the next two months.

In May, council gave the ministry 90 days notice that it wanted out of the ambulance business, and this Friday was supposed to have been the date to complete the transfer.

But last week the ministry contacted the municipality and asked that it retain control during an interim period so issues arising from the transfer can be resolved.

During last Thursday's council meeting, Reeve Bern Berry hinted at further developments in the negotiations telling councillors he had "surprising news" about the ambulance service.

Details were not revealed however and council discussed the issue in a closed session after the regular council meeting ended.

The on-going negotiations also involve the ambulance employees who are represented by the Ontario Public Service Employees Union.

In an interview on Saturday, union spokesman Ian Douglas called meetings last week with the ministry productive, but would not discuss details.

"We're back discussing a possible solution with the ministry," he said. "We want the best solution for all concerned."

Minden council decided to divest itself of the service because councillors felt ministry funding, which is supposed to cover the entire cost of running the service, did not compensate the township for the time and effort spent on administrating the service.

Because the service covers all of Haliburton County, it was felt that Minden taxpayers should not be subsidizing the cost of operating the service.

Reeve Bern Berry approached the county's management committee about taking over the service, but the committee did not accept the offer.

In the weeks following council's an-

Ministry approval still needed for study of Minden Hospital

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

The ministry of health has not yet answered the request from St. Joseph's Hospital to cover the deficits of the Haliburton and Minden Hospitals for the next two years.

This Friday is the deadline imposed by the St. Joseph's board of trustees to get a positive answer from the ministry before taking "drastic action."

In June the hospital announced that the combined operating deficits of the Minden and Haliburton Hospitals would total $175,000 and it would be unable to cover that amount.

It submitted a proposal to have the province cover the deficits for a two year grace period while the amalgamation of the Minden Hospital and Hyland Crest seniors' home is pursued.

Last week, St. Joseph's executive director Frank Lussing said the ministry had not yet responded to the hospital's request except to say they would be back to him about it.

Lussing met with the Haliburton County Planning and Development Committee to discuss the situation and there is an agreement to undertake a joint feasibility study of Hyland Crest and Minden Hospital. The county, which owns the seniors' home, is also going to be asked to participate.

Work has already begun on drafting a request for proposals from consultants interested in doing the feasibility study.

At a meeting of the Twelve Mile Lake and Little Boshkung Property Owners Association on Saturday, Minden Reeve Bern Berry said he believes its possible the Minden Hospital might be closed.

"I feel if the ministry doesn't say okay, I think we are in danger of losing our little hospital in Minden," he said. He encouraged residents to lobby the ministry on behalf of the hospital.

"It might help if you sent a letter to the ministry of health explaining to them how valuable the hospital is," said Berry. "I would appreciate it if you took pen in hand."

The Times will publish next Tuesday

Monday, August 3 is a civic holiday throughout much of Ontario and as a result we will publish a day later next week. The Times will be delivered to stores and post offices on Tuesday morning, and the office will be closed on Monday. The Thursday deadlines for advertising and copy still apply.
